We asked

What does SAG stand for at the Screen Actors Guild Awards party?

Well after the cameras stopped rolling, the stars realigned at the awards ceremony's official bash (hosted by the Entertainment Industry Foundation and People magazine), where some of the year's top performers held court at the Shrine Auditorium's back lot in L.A. The space was transformed into an Old Hollywood gentlemen's club, complete with retro banquettes, yellow roses and orange mood lighting. Guests sipped Cape Cods and martinis while sampling Wolfgang Puck's decadent macaroni and cheese with truffles. From a private booth, Meryl Streep, Amy Adams and Claire Danes shared a champagne toast and danced to the Rock 'n' Roll Fantasy Camp all-stars' rendition of "Gimme Some Lovin'." Tina Fey, however, wasn't prepared for an all-nighter: "I'm so excited to be asleep by 10:30. I'm still on New York time, so I'll go to sleep early in a nice hotel bed!" —LINDZI SCHARF

"Serendipitous amalgamation of gifted people!"
—CHRISTINA APPELGATE
in Emanuel Ungaro and Lorraine Schwartz jewels

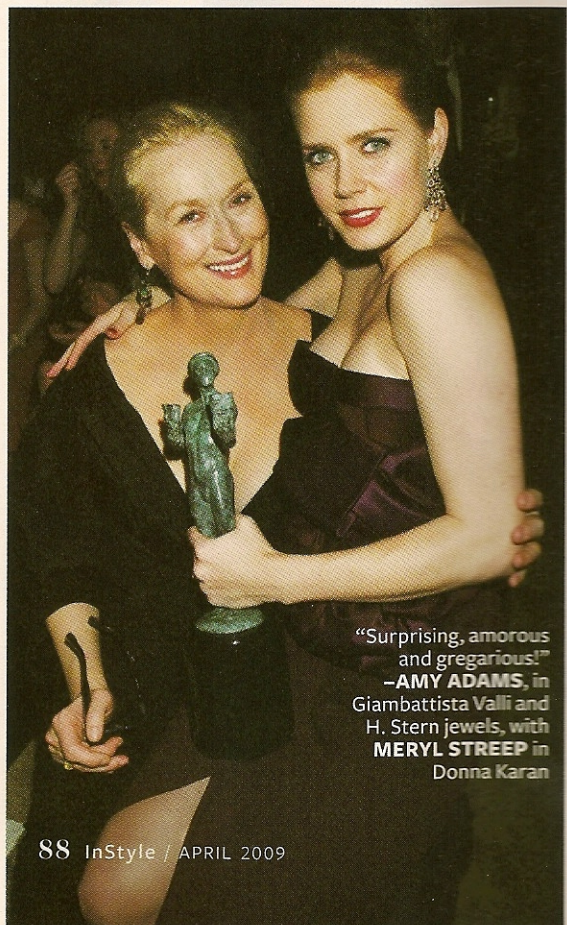

"I can't think like that right now! I have too much adrenaline running through my body to be creative!"
—LAURA LINNEY
in Michael Kors and Cathy Waterman jewels

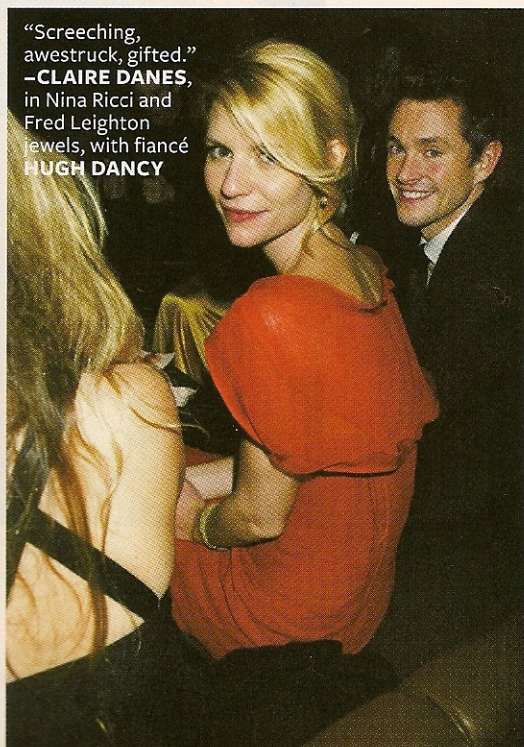

"At this moment I'm just thinking, 'We won a SAG!'"
—FREIDA PINTO
in Marchesa and Martin Katz jewels

"Shiny, actory and good!"
—TINA FEY
